

HR & Employee Relations

How Outsourcing Helps Your Team Win

As a business leader, you understand that HR and employee relations are a significant driver of your company's success and patient satisfaction. They can also be challenging to manage as a small to medium-sized healthcare organization.

Outsourcing these functions can help you reach your goals faster, save time and money, and ensure your business stays protected. If any of the following challenges sound familiar, imagine the differences you can experience when you partner with Empower:

SOUND FAMILIAR?

WITH AN HR PARTNER

Spending too much money on HR and employee functions.

Save money through the efficiency and scale that we provide. You'll have access to the resources and benefits you need, without the expense of full-time HR staff, higher plan rates, or costly and unnecessary fines.

Struggling to offer benefits to attract and retain employees.

Empower makes it easier and more affordable to offer benefits to your staff. You can access enterprise-level plans at reduced rates and a team to manage every aspect of annual enrollment and ongoing plan administration.

Fully responsible for adhering to all employment regulations.

We know the rules so you don't have to. Our specialization in HR for healthcare companies allows you to rest easy knowing we'll guide you through any employee-related issue based on the latest best practices.

At risk for employee documentation liability and claims.

We ensure you have the right documentation on all employees from I-9s, to background and drug screenings, to discipline/terminations. We also help you manage unemployment claims and share liability for claims costs.

SOUND FAMILIAR?

Losing time with inefficient HR processes that hurt your business.

Our dedicated team of HR experts creates a streamlined way for you to manage your employee lifecycle, reallocate time saved, and provide a great employment experience for your entire staff.

Outdated technology and/or lack of data to operate accurately and efficiently.

Our resources for technology and data-driven insights are tailored to healthcare businesses. You'll have access to tools and collaboration that simplify processes while providing protection at the click of a button.

Lacking insights on your employee experience to combat turnover.

Your staff is your business's greatest asset. We provide guidance on solutions to improve your employees' experience, including tools to gather key feedback from your staff that can help your business, such as exit interviews.

Juggling the constantly-changing landscapes of healthcare and business.

We provide services that scale as you do. The result is a partnership that values your entire team's success, understands your business, and adapts to meet your needs more quickly than you might achieve alone.

You run your business. We Empower you.

At Empower, we believe in partnerships that drive prosperity, with you in the driver's seat. You'll maintain complete control of your business, while we serve as a resource for your entire team bringing solutions for healthcare HR, employee relations, payroll, benefits, technology, and more - all focused on your success.

With over 45 years of combined healthcare experience, our team looks forward to helping you with your HR and employee relations needs.
